together...

WE CAN PURSUE JUSTICE AND FIGHT POVERTY

Across the mountains of Western North Carolina there are thousands of people struggling in poverty, people who come to Pisgah Legal Services every day in search of justice. For them, justice means:

- Escaping Domestic Violence
- Saving their Home from Foreclosure
- Securing Essential Health Care, and
- Obtaining Subsistence Income for Basic Needs.

No two client stories or situations are ever exactly the same. More often than not, we find their lives are complex and our clients are in crisis. We are committed to helping those with nowhere else to turn. We can do it... together. Please join us!

WITH YOUR HELP, WE CAN CHANGE LIVES

“Together” is an appropriate theme to describe a year that challenged us to unite and work harder than ever to serve the thousands of local people that depend on Pisgah Legal Services.

In the spring of 2013, we learned of massive government funding cuts to our domestic violence program, cuts that might force us to turn away more than half of the clients served by this effective program.

Pisgah Legal Services shared this news with our friends and donors, county governments, community foundations and other funders who understood the value of preserving legal aid for victims of abuse. The community rallied, we successfully met our funding goals for 2013, and services remained intact. Thank you, sincerely, for your caring and generous support.

We wish that we could tell you that the funding crisis has ended, but the truth is that while federal and state funding continues to wane, the need for our services only increases.

We begin a new year knowing that we must again raise the funds that allow our dedicated attorneys, staff and volunteers to serve people in our mountains who are facing tremendous hardships, such as homelessness and abuse. Our clients often don't have enough money to buy food, much less pay for an attorney. Legal help can be life-changing, and we're committed to being there for the most vulnerable people in our region.

And there are new challenges. In 2013 PLS began helping folks navigate their way through the health insurance Marketplace created by the Affordable Care Act. An incredible group of volunteers and staff are guiding individuals and families through this complicated process to access comprehensive care.

Together, we will continue to pursue justice and fight poverty for those who need it most. Thank you for believing in us.

STOPPING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Sofia's* husband was so abusive and controlling that she was not allowed to eat, leave the house or take a bath without permission. Nor was she allowed to have a phone, friends or computer access. He drove her everywhere. Her only private moments were during check-ups at the health department. That's where Pisgah Legal Court Advocate Thalia Hoy began meeting with Sofia in secret to create an escape plan.

But when Sofia did leave, her husband took out a protective order against her and sought emergency custody to prevent her from having access to their children. He filed false criminal charges, and Sofia was arrested. PLS Attorney Lynne Davis says, "I've never seen someone manipulate the system the way that he did."

Together, Davis and fellow PLS Attorney Martin Jarrard successfully guided Sofia through the legal system. They also assisted a private attorney who helped Sofia get primary custody of her girls. Today she is divorced, has a full-time job and lives in a new Habitat for Humanity home.

"It was a nightmare; I was living in fear all of the time. The people at Pisgah Legal were angels sent by God. I was not just a job to them; they feel love and compassion for the people they help."

SOLVING HOUSING PROBLEMS and PREVENTING HOMELESSNESS

James and Nettie

“Mr. Whalen was the superman that really saved something that meant a great deal to my mother and me, and that was our home. I just can’t thank him enough.”

After contracting polio as a child, James spent years in an iron lung and remained hospitalized until age 12. Despite serious physical disabilities, James went on to college, worked in broadcasting, and then in the security department of the Grove Park Inn for 25 years.

When his father fell ill in 2003, James’ parents put their home in his name. He and his mother, Nettie, continued to live there. The home was paid for, but James took out a small mortgage to make the home handicap accessible. He fell behind on the payments and soon faced foreclosure. PLS Attorney Bill Whalen helped secure a loan modification that saved James and Nettie’s home.

Jack broke his neck in a four-wheeler accident when he was a young man. It was difficult to adjust to being a quadriplegic and living his life in a wheelchair, but Jack did and went on to live a full life with a successful career working with computers.

Despite his disability, Jack was healthy until he was injured during a medical procedure. He was plagued with infections and hospitalized more than 30 times. He lost everything: his job, his home, his savings, and his independence. “I’m a pretty tough guy,” Jack says, “but I got to the point that I didn’t want to live.”

He moved to North Carolina and came to Mission Hospital for treatment. Jack was told that surgery could improve his health, but not until he had disability benefits. PLS Disability Advocate Aundry Freeman worked together with Jack and Mission staff to secure Jack’s benefits, improve his health and move him into an assisted living facility.

Aundry and Jack

“I am the poster boy for what the system was built for, but I was falling through the cracks. Pisgah made it all work, and opened doors for resources that changed my life. They did so without judgment or criticism. They cared for me with joy in their hearts.”

INCREASING ACCESS to HEALTH CARE

For more than 36 years, Pisgah Legal Services has witnessed the devastating effects of what can happen to people who lack health insurance. When health crises hit, many uninsured people deplete their savings, go into debt, and even lose their homes, trying to pay their bills. Without health insurance, many fall into poverty.

When the new N.C. Health Insurance Marketplace, created as a provision of the federal Affordable Care Act, opened in fall 2013, Pisgah Legal saw an opportunity to secure health insurance for thousands and to help prevent the financial crises caused by lack of coverage.

PLS, as part of a statewide consortium, received federal funding to help our neighbors navigate the new marketplace of health insurance options and enroll in the plan that is right for them. By February 2014, with additional support from Buncombe County's Department of Social Services and Mission Hospital, PLS recruited and trained 80+ volunteer navigators to assist people across WNC to purchase health insurance. Through this work, we are changing the lives of many people in our mountain region.

In 2013, Pisgah Legal Services experienced devastating cuts of more than $350,000 in grants to our program that helps victims of domestic violence.

PLS responded by launching a campaign to raise the funds locally, and the community responded.

Last year no services were cut thanks to your incredible support and generosity.

For our third annual Poverty Forum in October, we brought Kim Gandy (shown above), President and CEO of the National Network to End Domestic Violence, to Asheville. She told a crowd of almost 300 people, "Poverty exacerbates the violence. It makes it less likely for people to escape abuse."

FIGHTING POVERTY and LEVERAGING FUNDS for WNC

• • •

In addition to helping thousands of people through direct services, PLS works with community partners to improve or create policies and programs to protect WNC's most vulnerable citizens. This year, we:

Protected the Rights of Consumers

PLS worked as part of a state-wide coalition of legal aid providers to advocate for better consumer protection laws for North Carolinians including preventing predatory lending and identifying ways to protect homeowners from illegal lending practices.

Targeted High-Risk Domestic Violence Cases

PLS worked with a Buncombe County task force to identify high-risk domestic violence cases, coordinate criminal and civil response, and prevent fatalities. Other task force members include the Asheville Police Department, Buncombe County Sheriff's Department, the Department of Social Services and the District Attorney's office.

Secured Fair Housing Practices

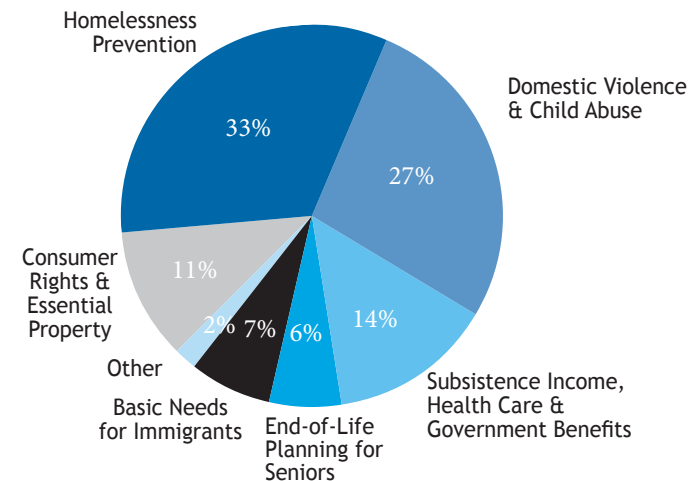

PLS Attorney Ben Many successfully advocated with the Forest City Housing Authority to change their admission policy to allow non-married couples to share a lease, in compliance with the law.

$25.3 million in benefits =

- Child support for victims of domestic violence
- Medicaid benefits payable to local medical providers

Thank you, George Ward Hendon

When George Ward Hendon passed away unexpectedly in 2013, the community lost a leader and Pisgah Legal Services lost a friend and champion.

Ward Hendon was an Asheville native who practiced law for more than 45 years at the firm of Adams, Hendon, Carson, Crow & Saenger.

Over the years, Ward provided legal help to more than 85 PLS clients. He served on the PLS Board for six years, including as the Board President. Ward also served on the Board of North Carolina's Interest on Lawyers Trust Accounts and as its Chairman. In 2005, Ward played an important role as a lead counsel for PLS in a dispute between PLS and the federal Legal Services Corporation over ownership of the Gudger House, PLS' main office from 1981 - 2008. Ward is pictured above (center, gold tie, arms folded) with the team of local attorneys who successfully defended that lawsuit. Your Investment in Pisgah Legal Services is Paying Off

Capital campaign gifts have allowed us to expand and serve more than 50% more people each year!

We completed the Justice for All Capital Campaign in 2009 and continue to see its impact on thousands of families each year. Your investment in our building helped more than 14,000 people in 2013, 50% more people annually than we served before moving into larger office space on Charlotte Street five years ago.

With more space we are involving law clerks, retired attorneys and community volunteers to extend our services. Office volunteers and pro bono attorneys donated more than 11,800 hours in 2013! Yet, staff and volunteers are far from meeting the need. Thank you for your gift, which is helping PLS to use our experience, skills and resources even more effectively.
